Minister of Infrastructure
Government of the State of San Luis
Argentina

The minister has overall responsibility for all of the matters regarding the Infrastructure of the State of San Luis (energy, healthcare, education, social housing, among other areas), and currently implementing a strong investment policy on it, understanding it as a governance challenge with a long term planning process, considering that 50% of the State budget is invested in infrastructure in a 76.748 km<sup>2</sup> territory area.

In this way, the Government of San Luis has been honoured with recognition of the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), United Nations Convention to Combat Desertification (UNCCD), Global Water Partnership (GWP), World Organization for Peace, Al Gore's Climate Reality Project Argentina, among several others.
